Profile

I have graduated from the prestigious master in User Experience at Barcelona Technology School. As a Digital Designer, my strength is in the design oversight to support the Research and Public Relationship teams. I am a hands-on designer, so you will usually find me rolling up my sleeves for my biggest passion: Digital Interaction and UI Design across multiple platforms. One of my guiding principles is the belief that great user experiences are based on simple human interactions, made tangible and seamlessly integrated into a product. The process is simple: understanding, designing, iterating, and exploring visuals that get prototyped.
